Flint Company Made Vintage Tiles

Terrazzo floors and Flint Faience Vintage Tiles, often thought to be Pewabic tiles, adorned the walls of the CEC hallways.

The Sanskrit Symbol: The American Indian symbol on the floor at the main entrance of the building celebrates the life of the Indians who lived in the Walled Lake area; and welcomes visitors to a place where students begin on the path of learning and continue on the path, following their life’s journey after graduation.

Introduction

Walled Lake Consolidated School, located at 615 North Pontiac Trail and now known as the Community Education Center, was constructed in 1922. Prior to its construction, the students of Walled Lake were housed in several one-room schools. Stonecrest School, still located at 207 Liberty, was used from 1860 to 1895. In 1895, a two-room Standard School, now the Masonic Temple located on West Walled Lake Drive opened and housed grades one through four in one room and grades five through eight in the other.

When the Walled Lake Consolidated School opened its doors for the first time in 1922, the students from the two-room Standard School on Walled Lake’s Main Street paraded the mile distance to the new building carrying American flags.

The year 1922 found Walled Lake and the United States in a time of great prosperity. This era was known as the “Roaring Twenties.” A popular dance, “The Charleston,” was introduced; King Tut’s Tomb was found; the Lincoln Memorial in Washington, D.C. was dedicated by President Warren G. Harding; and the Walled Lake Consolidated School on Pontiac Trail with its fifteen classrooms was dedicated by the citizens of Commerce Township. The District #5 Fractional Walled Lake Consolidated School was the first consolidated school in Oakland County and one of the first five schools in the 83 counties of Michigan. The total student enrollment of the new 52 square mile Walled Lake Consolidated School District was less than 200 students and included grades one through twelve.

Let’s take a look at some of the “Good Old Days” of the Walled Lake Consolidated School District’s ten decades of history.
The First Decade (1922-1931)

As originally built, the Walled Lake Consolidated School Building contained three levels in a two and one-half story structure. This structure had a large cornerstone outside the front entrance with the name of the architect, Byron K. Mills; the construction company, Wesson Company of Detroit; and the school official of the time immortalized in a three foot wide stone. The hollow interior of the cornerstone also contained many mementos of the time.

The brick facade of the building was decorated with many current and popular art deco details such as an open book, scrolls, flowers, and diamond and circle shapes.

When visitors first entered the imposing vestibule of the building, they found an Indian good luck sign (swastika) in the terra 7.0 floor entranceway. Upon leaving the entranceway, a series of steps led to the building’s spacious main floor hallway. The swastika is at the top of the stairs.

On the main floor facing east were rooms 108, 110, 112 and 114. With the low number of students in each grade, these classrooms housed the following grades; room 108 - first and second; room 110 - third and fourth; room 112 - fifth and sixth; and room 114 - seventh and eighth. The west side of this floor housed the superintendent’s office, the student bookstore (all textbooks and materials were purchased by students then) and a teacher’s workroom.

The upper floor of the building had four classrooms; 208, 210, 212, and 216 and the high school principal’s office, room 214, facing south. These rooms housed several high school subjects including English, French, algebra, geometry, geography, history, and chemistry. The chemistry room alternated with physics every other year, and this room also held math classes. Geography and history shared a room, as did English and French. Room 208, the Vocal Music Room, had a stage, which was used for the annual junior and senior play rehearsals.

The west side of the upper floor contained a library with a high ceiling and upper projection booth. The library also served as a study hall and assembly room. Next to the library were two classrooms. One room was for business classes, and one was for math classes. They were entered by going through the library. A smaller classroom used for business, English, and typing was just east of it.
The Second Decade (1932-1941)

The 1930's were the years of the “Great Depression” in the Walled Lake community and the entire world. It was in this decade that three additions were made to the Walled Lake Consolidated School building. The first two were to accommodate the population growth in the elementary school grades. For this reason, four rooms (115, 116, 217, and 218) were added in 1937. Four others (117, 118, 219, and 220) were constructed in the early 1940's. Terrazzo floors and Pewabic tiled walls adorned the hallways. These tiles are original Pewabic, designed for the school. Also around that time, the shops on the west side of the Lower Floor of the school were converted to a combination gymnasium and lunch room. In the late 1950's, a large concrete block building was constructed at the rear of the main building to house two shops for the industrial arts classes.

The third major addition to the original Walled Lake Consolidated School building occurred in 1939 when the large North Wing was added, using Work Projects Administration (WPA) money. This, the largest addition in the school’s history, contained the big gymnasium/auditorium with seating for 400 people and the stage. The new gymnasium/auditorium helped make Walled Lake a leader in athletics and drama in the Lakes Area. Also, with the conversion of the old gym to a cafeteria, hot lunches were served for the first time. On the first floor of the addition were the new home economics rooms (101 and 103) with a small room between them for high school interior decorating classes and storage.

The second floor of the 1937 addition contained four classrooms (201, 203, 205, and 206) which were designed especially for the high school students. The hallway in this addition contained the beautiful Pewabic tile work also found in the building’s south wing.

The Third Decade (1942-1951)

In the beginning of this decade, our nation had become involved in World War II, and many students and former students quickly became part of the U. S. Armed Forces. A popular student in the Class of 1933, Clifford Gilliam, was remembered by his class with a bronze memorial and beautiful evergreen tree in the front of the school building. In this same time period, a greenhouse was added to the building with an entrance through Room 6, which was the agricultural lab where Mr. Waldo Proctor taught from 1925 to 1954.

Also, during this period, the second largest addition in the school’s history was added to the South Wing for elementary school classes. One of the two major features of this addition was an elementary school gymnasium/auditorium. It could hold 100 people in temporary seating and had an excellent and well-lighted stage where many plays were presented in the years that followed. Under the auditorium were several large storage areas known as “Fort Knox.”

The other major feature of the South Wing addition contained eight elementary classrooms. The four rooms on the first floor (119, 120, 121, and 122) had a storage room between 119 and 120 for elementary school supplies. The four rooms on the second floor (221, 222, 223, and 224) also had a storage room between 222 and 224. At this time, kindergarten classes were added to the building.

It was obvious by the end of this decade that there was a need for additional school buildings in the Walled Lake School District. This was especially true in the elementary school grades. Six elementary schools were built in various parts of the Walled Lake School District. The elementary school or south wing was then converted into junior and senior high school classes.
The Fourth Decade (1952-1961)

The Walled Lake Consolidated School building's use changed dramatically in this decade. A separate high school was built on South Commerce Road in 1954. It was built at the cost of $25 per square foot and 200 people served on the planning committee. The new building was named Walled Lake High School when it opened in 1955. At that same time, the building on Pontiac Trail was renamed Walled Lake Junior High School. Its varied facilities, which had housed kindergarten through the 12th grade, were now used entirely by grades seven, eight and nine. During this time, a modernization occurred in the 1922 portion of the building. Most of the original windows were replaced with glass, brick upper parts and smaller, manually-operated metal windows along the bottom of the glass brick portions.

Walled Lake Junior High School took pride in its academic performance and also in its athletic successes. In addition, the students were given many opportunities for enrichment through after-school club activities. Of the more than ten clubs at this time, two are especially worthy of note. One was the ATWAS Club (All the World's a Stage). This club presented many excellent plays, and later Mr. Garth McAllister, the other club of special merit was the Explorers' Club whose varied activities were led by Mr. John Moffat for more than 20 years of existence. Each year, the club went on six Saturday excursions to places of special interest in Southeastern Michigan. The club members appeared on several television channels, met many celebrities, and were present at the arrival of the first jet plane in Michigan.

The student body had a full hour for lunch and could eat in the local restaurants or in the science room until the cafeteria opened. The school buses in those days were painted red, white, and blue and were housed in a fenced area behind the school. In 1945, they purchased buses at the cost of $2,500 each. The most popular activity of the student body was the annual trip to the famous Walled Lake Amusement Park. Students of Walled Lake Junior High School were given free tickets to ride the more than 20 attractions in the eight acre park. The favorite was the roller coaster, which at the time was the highest in Michigan.

The Fifth Decade (1962-1971)

This decade saw many changes in the Walled Lake Consolidated School District. In 1964, the Board decided to build a new junior high in the north end of the District. Tradition was broken by naming the building after an individual instead of the geographic area. Clifford Smart had been the District's longest serving Superintendent of Schools and later was the area's representative to the State House of Representatives. In the House of Representatives, Mr. Smart's work was so outstanding that he was elected Leader of the Republican Party. He sat in one of the three chairs of honor in front of the Michigan legislature.

Walled Lake Junior High School received its last additions in 1964. A cafeteria and two industrial arts rooms were constructed on the building's south wing. The other addition was added to the north wing. A small gymnasium was added to the larger, older one, and the home economics rooms were enlarged.

At this time, the library became a media center. The ceiling was lowered and the ceiling of the media center was increased by using the space formerly occupied by two classrooms.

The Walled Lake School District was also enlarged during this time period. In 1967, Walled Lake annexed the former Dublin School District to increase the District's size to its full and current 55 square miles. This annexation with its additional population caused the need for a second senior high school building. The new building on Beck Road became Western High School in 1969. Western and Central High Schools absorbed the ninth graders from both the junior highs. From 1969, Walled Lake Junior High School housed only seventh and eighth graders.

The Sixth Decade (1972-1981)

In this decade, the main changes in the Walled Lake Junior High Building were in its curriculum. For many years, Walled Lake had been a leader in the state in the "Core Class" concept. Students in the seventh and eighth grades had the same teacher for almost half of their school day in a three period block of language arts and geography in seventh grade and language arts and history in eighth grade. For several years, these students were grouped according to their reading ability.

This decade saw a movement away from the "Core Class" concept by integrating more elective classes. During this time, the State of Michigan mandated that student textbooks, paper and pencils should be supplied by the schools. Therefore, the Student Book Store became an office for the assistant principal.

Since the ever-growing student population of the district brought about a great increase in administrators and specialists, an administration building was built adjacent to Walled Lake Junior High in the late 1950's. Mr. Smart's office was there by the time he left in 1965. Also, several of the former Walled Lake Junior High classrooms were converted to district offices including rooms 2, 4, 5, 6, 108, 110, 111 and 112.
The Seventh Decade (1982-1991)

The seventh decade of the Walled Lake Consolidated School building saw a series of changes to the building. All the old wooden multi-pane windows of the 1937, 1938, 1939 and 1942 additions were replaced with double-pane aluminum windows which included upper green shade-shields.

With the increased interest in the study of science, labs were built in the west lower level area of the 1922 building, where the first gymnasium and lunchroom were located.

Rooms 206 and 208 became a center for the combination study of typing and computers. The rooms for the school counselors were also improved by moving them to the former classroom/school district office of 106.

In 1984 the Community Education offices were cubicles in the school basement. At this time, Dr. Don Sheldon was the superintendent, and Hugh “Bud” Davies was his assistant superintendent. Roy Danley was the WLJHS principal and Joan Heinz was hired shortly after as the assistant principal. Robert Duff was the Community Education director. In those days, there was a contentious Board of Education and soon Don Sheldon and Robert Duff found other positions or retired. Dr. Leroy Bartman became the new district leader and Dave Dursum took the position of Community Education director. The Adult Education department developed many vocational programs such as cosmetology, phlebotomy, auto body repair and computer programming. They also installed a learning center at the Wixom Ford Assembly Plant. It was a challenging, yet rewarding time.

Dr. James Geisler was hired as superintendent in 1988. Shortly before he arrived, Dr. Carl Pacacha joined the District as assistant superintendent; Dave Dursum, took a position in Royal Oak, and Rob Masson became the Community Education director. Vickie Banyash, who then was Adult Education supervisor, said: “I believe that no one loved that building the way Rob did.”
The Eighth Decade (1992-2001)

With the dedication of the new Walled Lake Middle School in 1992, the Walled Lake Consolidated School building of 1922 celebrated its 70th birthday and entered a new phase in its long and useful history as the District’s Community Education Center with Rob Masson as the building administrator.

At that time, the new Community Education Center began housing all of the satellite programs, including Teen Moms, New Potentials, Adult Ed classes, preschool and other programs. In no time, the old building was full of students and participants of all ages. Foreign born students came to take English as a Second Language (ESL classes), nurseries were installed for the Teen Moms babies, preschool children ran and climbed in the new playground, and high school students attending New Potentials were filling classrooms.

In 1993, the District administration moved into the Educational Services Center at 850 Ladd Road, across the street from the Community Education Center. Also in that time frame William “Bill” Hamilton came into the District along with Dr. Steve Gaynor. They both wanted an improved high school option for the alternative students. Dr. Hamilton assembled a committee consisting of the two high school principals, Richard Smith and Dennis Champnella along with the Staff Development director Sandra Feely, and Vickie Banyash, the then supervisor of Adult Education, to develop Community High School.

Community High School opened in January 1995. Vickie Banyash was appointed the school’s administrator. Banyash said: “I began the best position of my entire career.”

The Community High School students had the advantage of support staff including a substance abuse counselor, a teen mom facilitator, a police liaison officer, a child care nursery, a staff committed to mentoring as well as individualized learning, and a school meant for new beginnings and a fresh start.

The Ninth Decade (2002-2011)

The Transitions program moved to CEC in 2002 from Walled Lake Central High School where the 14-26 year old program was combined for several years. Teacher Janie Main, who was a certified Transition coordinator, developed an authentic Transition program for 18-26 year olds. This was the beginning of micro-businesses, including a store where the students learn to shop, stock, re-stock, count money and inventory for their own store, with Community High students and staff as their customers. This provided an opportunity for Transition students to develop social skills.

Also in the fall of 2002, the CEC gym was dedicated for the former teacher and coach, Niles E. Freeland, who was a highly respected educator from 1939-1976.

The Community High School continued for 15 years, graduating an average of 50 students per year, mentoring and assisting hundreds of students to overturn and change negative behaviors and learn to make positive choices for their lives. “Many former Community High students credit Community High School for a second chance that saved them,” Banyash added.

The new millennium brought serious budget constraints to the Walled Lake School District. In 2009, the District continued to suffer severe budget cuts and Community High School became too expensive. Sadly, the program at CEC was discontinued and many of the staff transferred to positions at the District’s high schools.

Although Community High was no longer at CEC, the Transitions Program, Community Education, Recreation, Adult Education, preschool programs, including Head Start and Great Start Readiness Program (GSRP) and Prime Time Care, before, after and summer school child care, continued and flourished. Prime Time Care programs began in 2003 and currently serves more than 1,800 children at 16 buildings.

In 2005, Rob Masson retired after serving WLCSD for more than 18 years and Janelle McGuire was named Community Education director. Prior to Masson retiring, at the Community High graduation, Mr. Richard Beagle, then in his late 70s, was granted a WLCSD high school diploma. A new Veterans Administration law granted public schools permission to award diplomas to veterans who left high school to serve our country. Mr. Beagle left his senior year of high school to serve in the Korean War.

In 2006, the District expanded its recognition programs and began honoring community members, who made lifelong contributions to the District, with the construction of the Wall of Fame in the CEC’s main hallway. It’s first honoree was former assistant superintendent Rolland Langerman. Subsequent honorees included: Naomi Smith, 2007; Mary Weborg, 2008; Barbara Garbutt, 2009; and Evelyn Brown in 2010.
The Tenth Decade (2012-2017)

The CEC continues to hum, with expanded Preschool Programs, Adult Education, added micro-businesses for the Transitions program and a plethora of Recreation classes, camps and programs for all ages.

With Dr. Lora Stout as the director of Community Education, Professional Development and Grants, Adult Education has flourished with English Language Learners filling the halls; many who take their children to one of the many preschool programs that participate in one of the Adult Education classes.

Jim Calhoun, who has worked in Community Recreation for the District for nearly 30 years, has been the supervisor for the past 12 years. With 18,000 registrations annually, community members of all ages have the opportunity to participate in one of the classes to Explore, Evolve and Enjoy life.

Approximately 95 young adults have attended the CEC Transition programming.

Calhoun said: “Throughout my many years involved in the great programs the CEC has offered our community, many things come to memory. First, the bat, “Charlie,” that has given me the pleasure of coming in at 2 a.m. because he yet again flew past a motion sensor and tripped the alarm. I recall the tremendous applause received during a first/second-grade basketball game when the ball finally went in. I will never forget watching the volcano experiment flood lava on the floor in science camp. Mostly, I will always remember fondly the many faces and smiles that have had the opportunity to experience the assortment of classes, programs and events at the CEC!”

He also noted: “I can still see the one-and-two-year-olds in our toddler classes; and I can hear the kind words spoken by so many people about our yoga instructor, Mimi Holland-Moritz, who was my fourth-grade teacher and staff alumni from the building. I will always remember watching the kids trick-or-treat down the CEC halls. This facility has been utilized to its fullest extent!”

Whether it is a recreation event, family fun night, a Daddy-Daughter dance, Adult Education class, new Transitions micro-business, or a volunteer basketball coaches meeting, the CEC building will remain imbedded in the many memories of the Walled Lake Schools community forever.

It’s now a great time to cherish the memories and say “Thank You” to this grand place.
Remembrance Quotes

There were 60 individuals who answered the online survey and shared their memories of the former Walled Lake Consolidated School District High School, Junior High, Community High and Community Education Center. Some 43 of the 60 responses were former WL Junior High students and they reminisced and shared some fun memories. Below are some of the responses. Thank you to everyone who responded to this survey!

“My mother, Mary Weborg, began teaching for Walled Lake in 1946. At that time, the school housed K through 12. She had a fourth-grade with about 45 students. No aides in those days. She always said fourth graders were the best of all human beings. …… I loved Junior High. ('60 - '63) Those were my favorite years in school. But my favorite memories of the building began happening during my elementary years, the fifties. We went to every concert, play, musical and even some basketball games in that gym/auditorium. We listened to Christmas and Spring concerts by the orchestra, band and chorus. Every year we looked forward to donkey basketball. The auditorium was packed. A company brought in all of the donkeys, shod with rubber shoes. The basketball players rode the donkeys and on went the game. The donkeys looked downright bored, but we thought it was hilarious. Once we even saw a demonstration game by the Harlem Globetrotters! It was the happening place in Walled Lake. The big venue for concerts and events that were affordable. Everyone was there, young and old. In 1962, we sat in our classrooms and listened to the description of John Glenn orbiting the earth. They played the radio broadcast over the P.A. You could have heard a pin drop.” – Anna Weborg Fraser

“I was on the wrestling team in the 1970s. Our practices included running laps thru a pair of swinging doors with glass windows that had wire mesh between the panes of glass. As you were running, you had to push the door open. My hand hit the glass and a huge spider web crack appeared and as each person hit it, it got bigger! No one ever told it was me who cracked it first! Fortunately the wire mesh held the glass together! For my music class I got to play a drum solo accompanied by the music teacher on piano. I received a standing ovation. I will never forget it.” – Norm Haight

“My favorite memory is performing in an afterschool play “Mouse Man & Rat Boy” as part of the late Mr. William's Language Arts Class. Special thanks to John Fundukian, former teacher at WL Western High School and later at CEC, for being an inspiration (1979) to so many students”– John Boike

“Some of my favorite memories of school were of Walled Lake Jr. High. I loved music with Jan Lamb and Mr. Ballard’s science class. Mrs. Lamb taught me the love of music beyond words. I was a bit chatty and would spend more time in the hallway than anywhere else. This building is a part of my personal history. And I am saddened to hear of its fate. Thanks for the memories WLJH!” – Janna Kremhelmer-Davidson

“The most interesting people I have every met while working here, are the amazing adult ESL students. They are the most kind, generous, talented, intelligent and appreciative people I've ever taught and worked with. I've learned from them the value of persevering with a positive attitude. I will also recall the wonderful Thanksgiving buffet with the alternative high school, ESL and all at CEC.” – Michelle Martin

“I will never forget my wonderful teachers, including Nancy Komenaga, who was a fantastic coach and gym teacher, who helped shape my confidence and competence. I enjoyed musicals, choir, cheerleading, student government, basketball track and art class. I was very blessed to draw from these positive experiences and become a fifth generation teacher.” – Sue Swindler Roberts

“I remember having to go up and down the stairs on crutches. Friendships formed then, I still have today.” – Jill Scholz

“Both seventh and eighth grade in the 1970s, we went to Bob-lo Island -- an experience I will never forget.” – Cindy Kirby
“I continued to play the oboe in the Junior High band at Walled Lake High where Mr. Bailum taught and directed the band in the 1950s. The following year he had each of us play a solo piece of music as a test. As the one and only oboe in the orchestra I was the last one to perform and a ‘first’ recital for me. I chose the Ave Maria and it seemed to go well but I was quite undone by the unexpected, rousing round of applause from the rest of the orchestra members when I finished. Mr. Bailum continued for a few moments to mark his grade and then quietly said, “I think you’ll have to move to the Senior Band.” Starting the next day I had a chair in the Senior Band with Mr. Helmut Holland Moritz directing. The only Junior High Student in the group. I have cherished this memory for more than 60 years.” – Ellen Comiskey Murphy

“I moved to the Walled Lake area in 1965. The CEC was in its glory and we would go to the DQ. I remember thinking, ‘how can anyone remember how to get to their classes with all those halls and stairs.’ I loved the teachers.” – Linda G. (See) Hinds

“I was a hall monitor and sat in front of the gym, near the boys locker room, if I remember correctly, great sights! I have lasting friendships from the 1960s in this building.” – Mary Matrise Trudeau

“When the Walled Lake Junior High was relocated, our preschool programs were transplanted to CEC. Many other community service programs were placed in the same building. It improved the convenience and accessibility for families. With Rob Masson, Community Education director at the time, we were able to work as a team in delivering useful options to our preschool children and families. The many years at CEC as the Preschool Supervisor were good ones. When I attended Junior High in this building, I met my future husband in ninth-grade English class.” – Gretta Horton

“I recall in science class in 1976-78, Mr. Uhazi taught about electricity standing on a chair, placing bare wires into a socket and telling us not to touch him or we’d both be “fried.” – Jim Jewett

“I loved working at Community High School. I loved all the kids; they all came from different backgrounds and different circumstances. Graduation was especially rewarding, because some of the kids had overcome big obstacles in order to be up there on the stage. The Teen Mom program was wonderful!” – Wanda Weaver

“I taught mathematics to the Community High School kids. A couple of times during the year we would need data for a lesson. I would coordinate with one of the preschool teachers to come to their rooms so the “big” kids could collect data, like height, favorite toy, etc...It was very endearing to see these big kids interact with the little ones. Once we had to leave the building immediately because of a building problem. It was during one of the colder months and preschool teachers did not have time to put on their coats. The Community kids took off their coats and put them on the little ones to keep them warm. It was very poignant.” – Laura Jablway

“I attended the school for 12 years. For many years it was the only school in town. Grade school was there also. We celebrated our 50th class reunion with a tour of the school. Our senior proms were held at the Walled Lake Casino Ballroom, adjacent to the famous amusement park on the shore of Walled Lake. I met many of my forever friends, including my husband, at this school. In 1954 our class was the last graduating class, as Walled Lake Central opened.” – Janet (Guoin) Alflen

“I am proud to have worked in the CEC and participated in many innovative and exemplary programs at Community High and the Transitions Program and I have many fond memories of the staff and students with whom I had the privilege to know. The commitment of the people in the building is what will carry on and that is important.” – Terri Crowther

“I was one of the switchboard operators in the office of Superintendent Clifford Smart. I graduated in 1953 and am still in touch with many of my former classmates. I played Community Ed. volleyball in the gym in the 1980s.” – JoAnn (Aughenbaugh) Jensen
“My favorite memory is meeting my lifelong friend Bonnie Kay (Petersmark) Sypula.” – Lynn Plessinger

“I will never forget listening to the radio in Mr. Hannas class when President Kennedy was assassinated.” – Charles Wilson

“While attending Jr. High, the dress code was amended to let girls wear slacks!” – Barbara Roumay Stinson

“My wife and I signed contracts with Rollie Langerman in 1963. Pontiac Trail was being widened in front of the CEC building, it was pouring rain, the road was full of holes, and after signing our contracts we said to ourselves - “Well, it's only a one-year contract and we can make it through that.” Fifty-four years later we are still here! We’ve never regretted our decision to come to Walled Lake. The district has given us so many opportunities. Both our son and daughter are Walled Lake Central graduates. We still support and value the Walled Lake Schools.” – Richard and Linda Smith

“I worked in Personnel, Mr. Clyde Fisher’s office, and Athletics, which were all housed on the second floor. My transition to the Walled Lake Junior High Media Center on the third floor was meant as a stepping stone to a ‘better position’ in the future. It turned out to be the best job in the district, and one that I held for 18 years, through a transition to a new building and many changes in staff and administration.” – Patricia Reid

“As a senior at Albion College in Albion, MI in 1956, I had interviews at three junior high schools: Grosse Pointe, L’Anse Cruse and Walled Lake. I was impressed by the “homeiness” of the building on Pontiac Trail and especially by the principal, Rollie Langerman. He became Assistant Superintendent years later. Thus, I chose Walled Lake and taught 7th grade core (English and Geography) from 1956-1960. I met Don H. Donigan, eighth-grade teacher. We dated for two years then married in June of 1958. We will celebrate our 59th anniversary this year. After we met and married, several other new teachers followed our lead.” – Hannah Provence Donigan

“I was a student from 1978-79 and Mr. Weston was my favorite teacher and cross country coach!” – Tom Van Velzor

“I met a new friend when I was in ninth grade (1959) and we are friends to this day. I met my all-time favorite teacher in junior high in fifth-grade, Mrs. Weborg. My mom, who is turning 100 in a few days, attended the school when it was first built.” – Beverly (Riley) Stiles

“I still remember vividly when one of my older sisters played in a donkey basketball game in the auditorium. Her name was LaVonne Fagerlie and I was a 1948 graduate from Walled Lake High School (now CEC)... Our entire family attended laughing and cheering like crazy! Also I remember an assembly we had when Arturo Rossini (a famous violinist) performed...a more “hip” assembly when a little known group called the Laredos performed. We formed a fan club for them, they cut a record and were around for quite a while.” – Joan (Fagerlie) Eskelinen

“I loved inviting the Transitions students into my Preschool classroom. One year a young man, in Transitions, was into woodworking. He cut out wooden flowers for my students to learn how to sand, paint, and turn into beautiful Mother’s Day gifts. He was so proud of them, and they were very impressed with him too! No matter what our differences we all have something to share with one another. We were family! J.P. Arens, at the time, Community High dean of students, cultivated a relationship with the preschool program and became Reggie Rainbow, the mascot of healthy eating. He dressed in an asparagus superhero costume, and promoted eating food of every color. Every inch of CEC holds a story and I’m proud that I had a part of it.” – Jennie Ashley

“I always enjoyed the variety of people who worked and attended classes at CEC.” – Lori Harris

“My experience at Walled Lake Jr. High helped me to find my confidence and independence; growing, attending different classes each hour, developing career skills and expressing ourselves through art and music. The history of the building was something we took for granted. Mr. Moffat was one of my favorite teachers. Little memories make big treasures.” – Muriel (Vowles) Pearson

“The staff at Community High were compassionate and understanding. The in-school day childcare for those who had children, allowed them to finish school and go on to better things. Vickie Banyash, the principal, and all the teachers cared about us and our futures, even though we did not see a future ourselves.” – Crystal Bush

“In Junior High, the eighth-graders would try and convince the seventh-graders that there was an elevator in the building. I remember our eighth-grade math book was the same one as on The Brady Bunch.” – Michele (Armstrong) VanSnepson
